DEEP ROOTS BROAD HORIZONS

January 15, 2021

Hi everybody,

I wanted to put some more information out about coming back to school. As previously announced by our Superintendent, we will be resuming in-person, hybrid learning on Thursday, January 21. When we resume, students will attend according to the same schedule that we were using prior to November 30. Thursday and Friday, January 21st-22nd, all 7th and 9th grade students in Cohort B will attend in-person starting at 7:45. All HS students who were working in library may also attend in-person.

The following week, Monday and Tuesday, January 25th-26th, all 8th and 9th grade students in Cohort A will attend in-person starting at 7:45. Wednesday will consist of teacher office hours and all students learning at home. Thursday and Friday, January 28th-29th, all 7th and 9th grade students in Cohort B will attend in-person starting 7:45. This brings us to the end of first semester.

Beginning February 2, we will enter second semester and there will be some changes to the schedule. We will get those details out within the next week via School Messenger, the building Facebook page, and website. Busses will run at the same times they did in the fall. These changes only apply to CJSHS students and not those who are part of the Pi Program.

Reminder that there is no school Monday, January 18 in honor of MLK day.

Have a wonderful weekend!
